

LED Lighting – Five Things You Should Never Forget!

If finding the Sweet Spot wasn't tough enough, your sales Bill Of Materials now includes...LED lighting! You have to choose what to use and answer questions about energy and sustainability.

What can you do? By attending this webinar you will learn about this energy-efficient lighting source available to you and the specifications that you must check to make your projects stronger than ever. This session will cover what you know about LEDs (the low wattage and the long life) and will show you what you might not know about LEDs. LED lighting is a new technology that you will need to adopt to meet client expectations and new codes and standards. The webinar will provide insight on how to avoid potential pitfalls and you will receive instruction on best practices, lessons learned and what it takes to implement LEDs without problems.

View webinar here.

Recorded December 13, 2011