FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Channel Vision's ARIA Audio Systems Introduces its Single Zone iPod Audio Package

Customize condos, hotel rooms, dorm rooms, and bedrooms with this one room solution for iPod

Costa Mesa, Calif., June 1, 2011 – ARIA Audio Systems by Channel Vision, a leading provider of technology for the Well Connected Home™ is pleased to announce the introduction of its Single Zone iPod Audio Package (A0915). This one room solution for iPod provides all of the essentials to outfit individual rooms with an audio package using an iPod.

Included in this audio package is ARIA Audio Systems' latest iBus local source dock with IR control and iPod charging. The unobtrusive design of the docking station blends into most modern décor and can be placed in any room. Also included in the package is a keypad controller that provides all of the essential control functions for one room, an integrated 100W Class D amplifier with local source input, and a pair of 6.5" architectural speakers.

Once installed, an iPod can be docked on the wall, controlled from a keypad controller and played through in-ceiling speakers. Individual rooms can be easily customized to give anyone in condos, hotels, dorm rooms, and bedrooms complete control over their own iPod in their own space.

"This system is great where whole-house audio distribution is not required or wanted. Homeowners no longer need to worry about their children interfering with the whole-house audio system. With the Single Zone iPod Audio Package, parents can provide their children with control over their own music, in their own bedrooms or recreation rooms. This package is also ideal for use outside of the home, including hotel rooms, dorm rooms, and doctor or dentist offices," stated Darrel Hauk, Channel Vision's President/CEO.
