Channel Vision's ARIA Audio Systems Introduces Rock Speakers

Stone shaped outdoor speakers complement most landscaping, making them ideal for garden and backyard entertaining

Costa Mesa, Calif., June 1, 2011 – ARIA Audio Systems by Channel Vision, a leading provider of technology for the Well Connected Home™ is pleased to announce the introduction of Rock Speakers to its line of outdoor speakers. These 8" stone-shaped speakers are designed to resemble natural rock formations and are available in Sand (RS801-SA) and Granite (RS801-GR) finishes.

With their natural look, these speakers easily blend into most outdoor settings and can be placed near pools or along walkways for backyard and garden entertaining. The enclosures are crafted from hand-cast fiberglass and have a weather-resistant finish to ensure many years of enjoyment.

The RS801 models house an 8" polypropylene cone woofer with rubber surround and a 1" Neodymium waterproof dome tweeter, boasting a frequency response of 55-20kHz, 80 watts RMS, 160 watts maximum power.

Pricing & Availability

Channel Vision's Rock Speakers are sold individually and are designed specifically for the installation market. They are now available for purchase through Channel Vision's distribution network of custom retailers, distributors, dealers, and installers internationally.
